

RYEDALE FOLK MUSEUM

in the North York Moors
National Park

Filming and Photography at Ryedale Folk Museum

Our range of historic buildings and interiors, coupled with our stunning location and helpful team, makes Ryedale Folk Museum a great choice for your film or photograph shoot.

From authentic thatched buildings to a reconstructed Iron Age roundhouse, the Museum provides a range of options for historical dramas and photo settings.

In recent years, the Museum has been featured in CBBC's Hacker the Dog, Death Comes to Pemberley, Secret Britain, and a range of other independent and student productions.

Museum volunteers helping as extras

Our building exteriors and interiors cover many eras, from pre-history to the 1950s. It may be possible to use some of our items for set dressing.

If you are interested in filming or photography at the Museum, please contact us:

01751 417367

info@ryedalefolkmuseum.co.uk

