RYEDALE
FOLK MUSEUM
in the North York Moors
National Park

A unique visitor attraction located in the picturesque village of Hutton-le-Hole, where history is brought to life through its buildings and collections.

In a truly beautiful setting within the North York Moors National Park, Ryedale Folk Museum makes a wonderful choice for your group's excursion. Your party can explore the site at their own pace, with twenty buildings and six acres to enjoy.

Step back in time and explore:

- A typical Iron Age roundhouse
- A Medieval crofter's cottage
- A thatched Elizabethan Manor House
- An 18th Century thatched cottage complete with rare wooden witch post
- A Victorian thatched cottage, washhouse and dairy
- An array of horse-drawn vehicles – a hearse, fire engine, carriages and ploughs
- Traditional workshops of the blacksmith, cobbler, wheelwright, tinsmith, cooper, saddler and carpenter
- An Edwardian daylight photographic studio – the oldest in the country
- Vintage farming equipment – tractors, ploughs, carts and threshing machine
- A nostalgic 1950s village shop and chemist
- The Rosedale glass furnace: an insight into illegal 15th Century glass making
- The Harrison Collection – a treasure trove of stunning antiques and rare curiosities

Getting Here and Parking

We are located in the village of Hutton-le-Hole, on the road from Kirkbymoorside that runs over 'Blakey Ridge' to Castleton. We are two miles north of the main A170 road between Helmsley and Pickering. The Museum is less than an hour's drive from Whitby, York, Scarborough and Middlesbrough and around a one and half hour drive from Leeds and Hull.

Coach parking is available at the National Park Authority's car park in Hutton-le-Hole, which is a 300m walk from the Museum entrance. The current charge is £5.00 per coach. Coaches can drop off/pick up passengers outside the Museum if required – whenever possible, a member of the Museum team will provide a short welcome and distribute tickets on your coach upon arrival – just send someone in to tell us you've arrived.

Car parking is available at the National Park Authority's car park, which is a 300m walk from the Museum and at The Crown Inn car park, which is adjacent to the Museum. Charges apply at both car parks, please see our website for current rates (coins required).

We recommend that you allow at least two hours for your visit to make the most of the Museum and village.

Access and Facilities

Ryedale Folk Museum is an open-air Museum with historic buildings. There are a variety of floor and ground surfaces, some of which are uneven by nature. All buildings have ground floor access but unfortunately some buildings have one or two (mostly small) steps to enter them.

There is a gentle slope through the middle part of the site (around the main green area) and some manual wheelchair users may require assistance from a companion at that point. The Museum has three mobility scooters and two manual wheelchairs which are available to borrow free of charge. Booking before arrival is essential to guarantee availability. Our scooters are large and sturdy, helping people move around the site, but they cannot be taken into the buildings.

Toilets are available at two locations on site including disabled toilet facilities in both places. A baby changing facility is also available.

Shopping and Exploring

Gift Shop

Our gift shop offers a range of items for visitors to take home to commemorate their visit or as a gift for friends or family. We stock a range of books, toys, greetings cards, locally produced food and drink, as well as quality local hand-crafted items. All profits from the shop are used to support the Museum's charitable activities.

The Village and the North York Moors National Park

Hutton-le-Hole village, where the Museum is situated, is one of the most scenic villages in the area – with a babbling beck and grazing sheep. We would advise that your group allows time to appreciate its peaceful atmosphere and to visit the village's craft workshops.

The wider area of the North York Moors National Park also offers your group the chance to explore one of Britain's most beautiful areas of countryside.

Find out more by visiting the National Park's website: www.northyorkmoors.org.uk

Food and Drink

There is a choice of establishments in the village, supplying everything from a quick cuppa to a tasty two-course meal. Each member of your group will receive a pass on arrival, allowing individuals the freedom to come in and out of the Museum, enjoying refreshments at their leisure.

The Barn Tea Rooms and The Forge Tea Room offer discounts to Museum pass holders - discounts will be listed on the back of passes given to your group.

Bookings can be made for refreshments for your entire group at a set time if preferred, please liaise directly with the establishment of your choice:
